

Section Director, Transfusion Medicine – Faculty Position

The Department of Pathology and Laboratory Medicine at Rutgers Robert Wood Johnson Medical School (RWJMS) invites applications for a Transfusion Medicine Medical Director in the Section of Transfusion Medicine within the Division of Clinical Pathology. This faculty position offers the opportunity to join a dynamic academic medical center and serve as a clinical leader within a multidisciplinary transfusion medicine team. The Transfusion Medicine Medical Director will play a critical leadership role in maintaining patient safety, regulatory compliance, and high-quality clinical operations, while advancing transfusion medicine practices across RWJMS and RWJ University Hospital. The successful candidate will contribute to clinical service and the Department's educational mission, including teaching pathology residents and fellows.

About the Service

Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital is a 628-bed academic medical center currently undergoing expansion and extensive renovation. The Section of Transfusion Medicine provides comprehensive transfusion medicine and blood banking services in support of a broad and complex clinical enterprise, including a Level I Trauma Center, Bristol-Myers Squibb Children's Hospital, and the Jack and Sheryl Morris Cancer Center. The service offers the full scope of the specialty, including a state-of-the-art stem cell processing facility; a high-volume apheresis service performing red cell exchange, plasma exchange, extracorporeal photopheresis, stem cell collection, and CAR-T collection; participation as a study site in all phases of university- and pharmaceutical-sponsored clinical trials; an active blood donation service with a dedicated GMP laboratory; and a full-service traditional blood bank.

Qualifications

- An MD, DO, or MBBS degree is required.
- Licensed or eligible for licensure to practice medicine in New Jersey.
- Specialty board certification in Clinical Pathology OR Anatomic and Clinical Pathology.
- Subspecialty board certification in Blood Banking & Transfusion Medicine.
- A minimum of 3 years of experience in blood banking and leadership experience is preferred.

Academic rank and compensation will be commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and academic experience.

Why Rutgers Health & New Brunswick?

RWJMS is located in New Brunswick, NJ, a vibrant and fast-growing city in its own right, positioned between New York City and Philadelphia, with easy access to the Jersey Shore beaches. Rutgers faculty enjoy a comprehensive State of New Jersey benefits package, including health insurance, retirement plans, and generous leave programs.

For more information and to apply, please visit: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/276008>

It is university policy to provide equal employment opportunity to all its employees and applicants for employment regardless of their race, creed, color, national origin, age, ancestry, nationality, marital or domestic partnership or civil union status, sex, pregnancy, gender identity or expression, disability status, liability for military service, protected veteran status, affectional or sexual orientation, atypical cellular or blood trait, genetic information (including the refusal to submit to genetic testing), or any other category protected by law. As an institution, we encourage all qualified applicants to apply. For additional information please see the Non-Discrimination Statement at the following web address: <http://uhr.rutgers.edu/non-discrimination-statement>.